PREFACE.

In presenting this collection to the public, but few words are necessary to call attention to the fine character of the greater portion of the pieces offered for competition. Mr. IDELL made a specialty in the collection of Store cards, but few of those known being missing. The rebellion tokens, are not those gathered from circulation, they having been specially struck in the metals, for Messrs. IDELL and GROH who were working in unison, generally furnishing the planchets, with which they went prepared.

Temperance medals, will be found strongly represented. The English coins, though few, are generally fine. Among the cents will be found some exceedingly fine specimens. Of the ancient Roman coins (which come from another cabinet) it is proper to state that the owner had rather a partiality for medallions and "1st Brass," many specimens of which will be found in the finest condition and beautifully patinated. The collection of catalogues, probably the largest ever offered, will be found to contain quite a number of the rarest.

It has been my aim to fairly describe the condition of the pieces, neither under nor overrating them, yet preferring the former to the latter.

Store Cards.

This cabinet of store cards is probably the largest that has been offered in this city for competition. It was principally collected from 12 to 18 years ago, the owner having devoted much time and expense in its formation, seeking, as he did, varieties in dies as also in metals. They are almost invariably in the finest condition. The great number (and not a duplicate) compels the utmost brevity to economize space; frequently pieces will be found in lots which, in a smaller collection, would be separately noticed and described.
